

On 29 January, 2009, we announced a voluntary recall of Arico Peanut Butter Cookies and Cookie Bars as a precautionary measure due to yesterday's expanded recall of peanut ingredients from Peanut Corporation of America's (PCA) Blakely, Georgia facility. PCA is the subject of an FDA investigation concerning the recent salmonella outbreak.

The recalled cookies contain peanut butter supplied by Peanut Corporation of America. No known illnesses have been reported to date in connection with Arico Peanut Butter Cookies and Cookie Bars. Arico Natural Foods Company immediately informed FDA of its actions and is fully cooperating with the Agency. Arico products are sold at health food and grocery stores throughout US and Canada. Included in the recall are:

- Arico Peanut Butter Cookies (4.76 oz stand-up pouch with UPC 1 82363 00022 1)
 - Sell-by dates of 080309 and 100509
 - Date code is printed on the top, front, left of each pouch OR on the case label as 08/03/09 and 10/05/09

- Arico Peanut Butter Cookie Bars (1.4 oz with UPC 1 82363 00006 1)
 - Sell-by date of AUG0409
 - Date code is printed on the middle, back of individual bar wrapper OR on the case label as 08/04/09

No other Arico Natural Foods cookies or other product lines are included in the recall.

Arico Natural Foods Company made a one-time purchase of organic peanut butter from Peanut Corporation of America that is affected by yesterday's expanded recall announcement that includes all products produced since January 1, 2007. No other Arico products use raw ingredients from Peanut Corporation of America.

Salmonella is an organism which can cause serious and sometimes fatal infections in young children, frail or elderly people, and others with weakened immune systems. Healthy persons infected with Salmonella often experience fever, diarrhea (which may be bloody), nausea, vomiting and abdominal pain. In rare circumstances, infection with Salmonella can result in the organism getting into the bloodstream and producing more severe illnesses such as arterial infections (i.e., infected aneurysms), endocarditis and arthritis.

The safety and quality of Arico products are of utmost importance. Arico is destroying any remaining supply of products received from Peanut Corporation of America and has discontinued using them as a supplier.

If you purchased any of the above recalled products, please unwrap the product and destroy the contents to prevent consumption. Please notify any trade partners (i.e., wholesalers and other retailers) that may have received the recalled lots above.

For all other consumers, please call our Customer Service at 866-98-ARICO (27426) between 8am-5pm or contact us online (info@aricofoods.com).
